Woman Drowns When Yacht, Oil Tanker Collide

NEW YORK, May 20 (AP)—One person drowned and five were rescued today when an oil tanker and a 33-foot pleasure cruiser collided in the East River off Manhattan Island.

Hundreds of New Yorkers, out for a Sunday stroll along the river bank, witnessed the crash and rescue work.

The dead woman was identified as Mrs. Ruth Nettles of Manhattan. She was a passenger aboard the yacht, as were those rescued.

The Coast Guard listed the tanker as the J. Derby II, a 180-foot diesel owned by the Spontanous Fuel Transport Service Inc., New York City. The cruiser was the Escape II, owned by Alfred Landi of Manhattan, who was taken to a hospital with back injuries.

Yacht Owner's Version
"The tanker plowed right into us," he said from his hospital bed. "It rammed us in the stern. It split us in two."

Coast Guard inspectors boarded the tanker and took a statement from its captain, Kristian L. Hoestol. The captain was quoted as saying he did not know his ship had struck anything. He said he "heard shouts and saw people pointing," then had the crew toss life rings over the side.

Rupert Waltl, a 20-year-old Brooklyn sailor stationed on the carrier Antietam, was walking along East River Drive with his girl when the boats, both heading south, collided in midstream.

Sailor Rescues Woman
Waltl plunged in to rescue Miss Ruth Johnson, 35, Manhattan. The others were picked up by passing boats. A woman was reported to have jumped in the water to save a cocker spaniel.

Waltl said the cruiser appeared to be drifting without power and struck the tanker on the starboard side attaching itself somehow and being carried downstream a short distance before it got free.

The cruiser overturned and was sinking when police and Coast Guard rescue units arrived. Its stern was shattered, Waltl said, and the passengers seemed to be sliding out into the water.

Jordan Premier Gives Up Office

AMMAN, Jordan, May 20 (AP)—Premier Samir el Rifai and his entire government resigned today.

Informed sources reported that King Hussein instructed former Premier Said Mufit to form a new government.

Rifai said ill health was the reason he gave in a letter of resignation submitted to King Hussein, but informed sources said the resignation was due to political differences between the Premier and the palace. There were no indications of what these differences concerned.

Rifai became premier on Jan. 8 following widespread rioting in Jordan set off by demonstrators protesting attempts to bring Jordan into the pro-Western Baghdad Pact.

Said Mufit was in office at the time.

During Rifai's premiership Sir John Bagot Glubb, a Britisher, was dismissed as commander of the Arab Legion, the British-trained Jordan army.

Glubb was dismissed in March, reportedly at the direction of the King.

Committees Say Reports Misused

WASHINGTON, May 20 (AP)—Two House committees have cracked down on the military for what they call the "unpardonable misuse" of congressional reports to "evade giving out legitimate information" to the public.

The unusual action came to light today in an exchange of correspondence between Rep. Moss (D-Calif.), chairman of the House Freedom of Information Committee, and Rep. Mahon (D-Tex.), chairman of the Defense Appropriations subcommittee.

Moss, in reply to questions, said the defense establishment had attempted to use a committee report accompanying last year's appropriation bill "as a convenient screen to hide behind" in handling information.

Broad Interpretation

"It was clearly the intent of the Appropriations Committee to express disapproval of the release of information about weapons and plans, but it was broadly interpreted by the Defense Department to apply to virtually all types of information," he said.

As a result, the Appropriations Committee in its latest report this month included a blistering directive to military officials not to construe its comments "as a cover-up for inefficiencies and weakness of administration."

The crackdown and its inception in an appropriations report of last year criticizing the release of what the committee deemed to be military secrets. The report concluded: "Too much information has been released which is of no benefit to the American public, but which is of tremendous value to our opponents."

Committee Words Fired Back

Moss committee members, investigating suppression of information by government agencies, were subsequently surprised to have this wordage cited back to them as authority for withholding information.

When investigators checked with Mahon, he retorted it was "unpardonable that government agencies are seeking to hide behind" that part of the report to "suppress legitimate information for Congress and the press."

Moss added in an interview that the Defense Department action was an example of how other agencies try to "dig up alleged authorities" for withholding information from the public.

The press secretary's views were aimed in a filmed interview with Washington correspondent Ann Corrick and Rep. F. Edward Hebert (D) La.

Truman Has 30-Minute Audience With Pope Pius

ROME, May 20 (AP)—Harry S. Truman, former president of the United States, spent an hour and a half in Vatican City today—including a 30-minute audience with Pope Pius XII. Then he went to Protestant church services.

Truman, an advocate of renewed diplomatic relations with the Vatican, is the first U. S. chief of state to be received at the Holy See—either in office or after—for 37 years. President Woodrow Wilson paid a formal visit on Pope Benedict XV in 1929, during World War I peace talks. The United States has had no diplomatic relations with the Vatican since 1870.

Truman was alone with the pontiff for 15 minutes in his library, after being introduced by Bishop Martin J. O'Connor of Scranton, Pa., rector of the pontifical North

Case, Mahon Call Service Feud 'Healthy'

Jackson Disagrees, Contending Rivalry Has Produced Waste

WASHINGTON, May 20 (AP)—Sen. Francis Case (R-S.D.) and Rep. Mahon (D-Tex.) said today they think a new outbreak of Army-Air Force rivalry is a "healthy thing."

Case said "it keeps them from getting sloppy." Mahon said now that the dispute which "has been brooding under the surface" is out in the open all Americans have a part in the "historical decision" of what role each service should play in the future.

Sen. Jackson (D-Wash.) said he didn't consider the rivalry a healthy thing. He said "taxpayers are concerned about waste of funds" which he contended results from efforts of the Army, Navy and Air Force to develop competing weapons.

Wilson Deplores Feud

Mahon, chairman of the House Military Appropriations subcommittee, was interviewed on a TV radio show—CBS—"Face the Nation." Jackson and Case appeared in a television debate—NBC—"American Forum"—just one day after published reports pictured the Army as feeling that continued emphasis on air power can lead only to "national disaster."

This public feud was termed "a most unfortunate business" by Secretary of Defense Wilson, who said yesterday he would look into it personally.

Case said he was not disturbed by sharp rivalry among the services but felt, on the contrary, that it strengthens the defense effort by keeping the services on their toes.

"Duplication Of Effort"

Jackson, however, said this rivalry has produced "waste and duplication of effort," particularly in the field of missile development.

The Defense Department, he contended, has a responsibility to make basic decisions on which service should do which job. He said this is not being done and added:

"I think quite clearly that what is happening is that these problems are being passed up to Congress..."

Be-Bop Lovers Picket Pickets

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 20 (AP)—Pickets staged a White Citizens Council demonstration outside a rock-and-roll show today, and promptly were picketed by young rock-and-roll lovers.

About 25 police officers watched the orderly demonstration outside the Municipal Auditorium, where the show headed by rock-and-roll star Bill Haley was performed.

Negro singer Nat (King) Cole was attacked by a group of white men in the same auditorium when he appeared at a similar program April 10.

A group of about 12 teen-age boys carried crude homemade signs reading, "Rock and Roll is Here to Stay," and "Three Cheers for Bill Haley."

Police Commissioner Robert Lindberg said the demonstration against be-bop and rock-and-roll was sponsored by the North Alabama White Citizens Council.

The North Alabama WCC has been conducting a campaign against be-bop and rock-and-roll. The council says this is degrading to white teen-agers.

Crash Near Cresson Kills Three Youths

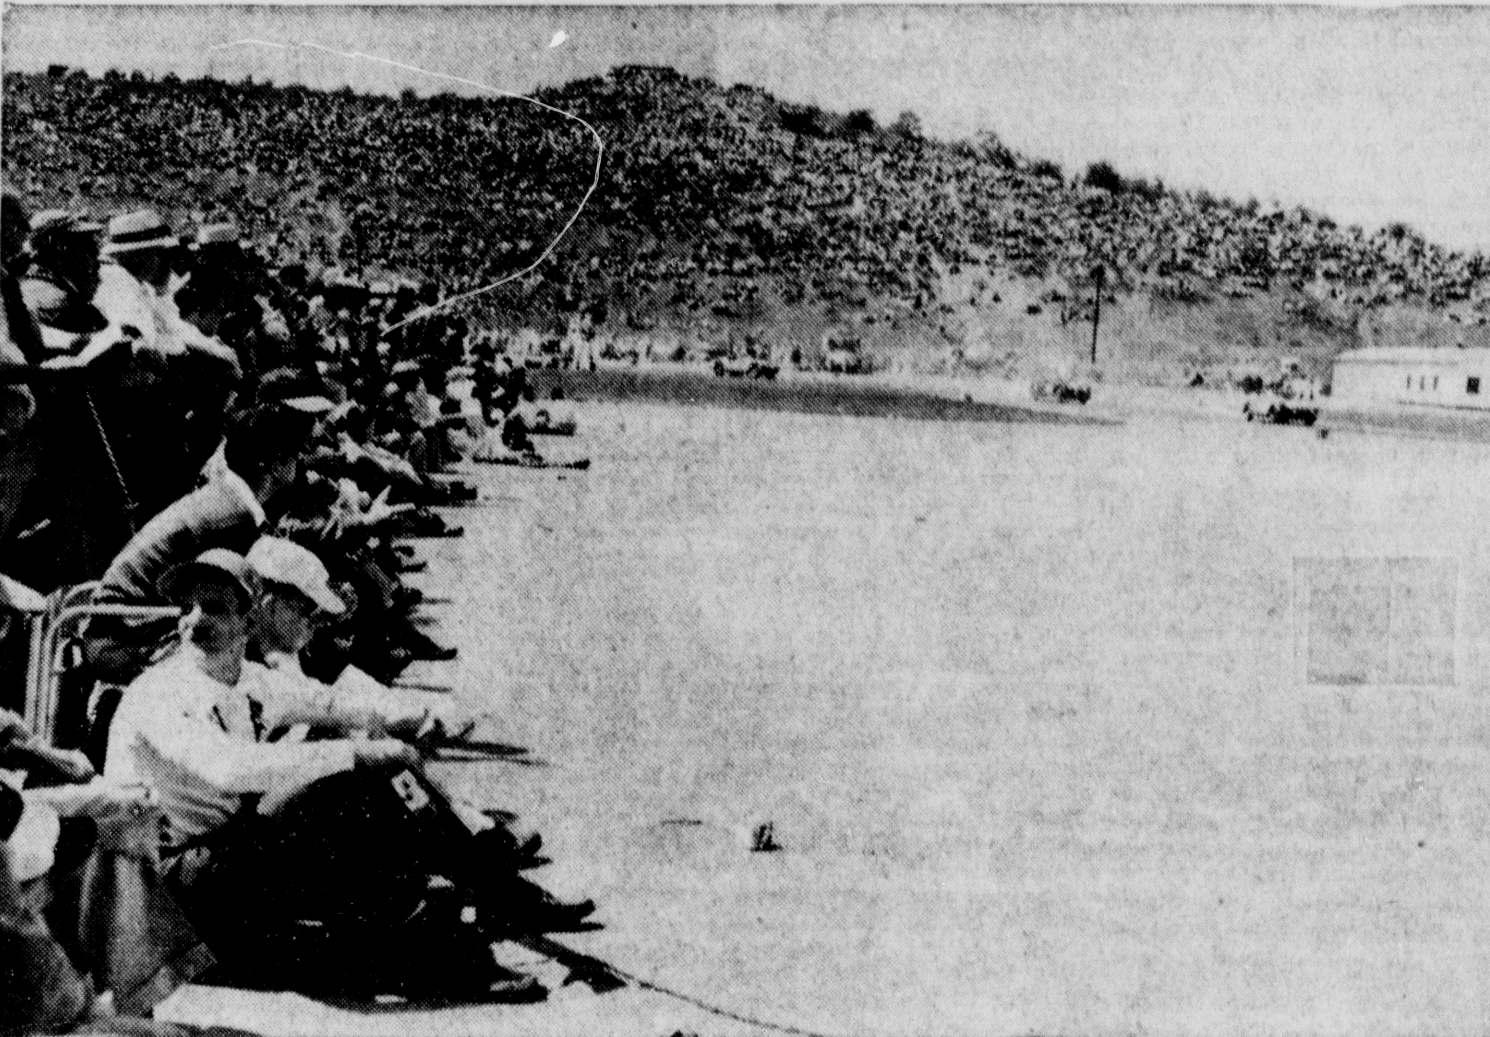

CRESSON, Pa., May 20 (AP)—Three teen-agers were killed and a fourth critically injured today in a head-on auto wreck on route 53 about eight miles south of this southwestern Pennsylvania town.

The dead were Melvin Gonsman, 17, of nearby Sanketown, and Stanley J. Skebeck Jr., 16, and Anthony Saccano, 16, both of Cresson.

State police said the victims were riding in a car driven by Ralph Maloney, 16, Cresson. An officer said Maloney passed an auto driven by Steve Zihalla, RD2, Portage, Pa., and forced Zihalla's car into a guardpost. The Maloney car, he added, then smashed head on into a machine operated by Thaddeus Dombrosky, 23.

Senators Link Pornography Traffic To Sex Crime Rise

WASHINGTON, May 20 (AP)—Senate investigators said today the traffic in pornography has grown into "a 500-million-dollar-a-year racket" that is warping adolescents and contributing to sex crimes.

"The quantity and quality of the material beggars description," the Senate Juvenile Delinquency subcommittee said. "It is wanton, depraved, nauseating, despicable, demoralizing, destructive and capable of poisoning any mind at any age."

The subcommittee called in a 71-page report for new federal and state laws and a marshaling of public opinion to combat the traffic. It said "a very large percentage" of the stuff reaches teenagers.

Kefauver Led Probe
The report, based on the subcommittee's nationwide investigation under the chairmanship of Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn.), said:

"The most insidious effect of present day pornographic materials is the portrayal of abnormal sexual behavior as being normal. Perversion for profit thus wrecks the chances of the impressionable adolescent to achieve a normal, healthy relationship upon reaching maturity."

The subcommittee said that, "While this traffic has been growing, sex crimes have increased with almost unbelievable rapidity." It cited statistics, including an approximate doubling of the number of rapists under 20 since 1940.

War Also Blamed
"The impulses which spur people to sex crimes unquestionably are intensified by reading and seeing pornographic materials," the subcommittee said, although it added that "the sharp increase in crimes of this type is largely the result of social and family upheavals" arising from World War II.

The subcommittee stressed it was not talking about "questionable comic books or salacious magazines" but about "outright pornography."

This, it said, ranges from erotic books and pamphlets, motion picture films, still photographs, playing cards, paper match cards and wood carvings to items "of a character too delicate to identify."

The order came more than three years after Wilson said publicly he couldn't see much reason for having veterinarians long after the military had retired most of their animals.

Benson Postpones Midwestern Trip
WASHINGTON, May 20 (AP)—Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson postponed today for one week his scheduled trip to Iowa and Nebraska.

A spokesman for Benson said he changed plans because he wanted to be in Washington while the new farm bill is in conference in case he should be called as a witness.

Mollet Convinced Soviet Visit 'Useful'

PARIS, May 20 (AP)—Premier Guy Mollet returned today from his high level talks with Soviet leaders in Moscow and said he was convinced that "such trips are useful for peace."

"There is much distrust in the world and when we try to solve problems we are helping peace," he declared. "The pessimists who thought that nothing concrete could be accomplished will be disappointed."

Ship Chased Out Of Danger Zone Before H-Blast

USS MT. MCKINLEY, Off Bikini, Monday, May 21 (AP)—A ship believed to have been a Japanese fishing craft was discovered inside the danger zone about 12 hours before today's H-bomb detonation. It was shoed well out of fallout danger before the test.

The incident, which recalled the case two years ago of the Japanese fishing boat "Lucky Dragon," was reported today by task force officials.

A report said the ship bearing the designation KN-79 passed outside the zone at 1:30 a.m. today well before the explosion after being warned of its danger.

By the time the hydrogen device was detonated just before dawn the ship was 30 miles north of the zone's boundary and beyond the expected path of any significant fallout, the announcement said.

Two Acquitted
The tribunal acquitted Jean Mons, former secretary general of the Defense Ministry, and Andre Baranes, a newspaperman who once worked for the pro-Communist paper Liberation.

The verdict itself came after a marathon session of 21 hours. When it was announced Labrousse grabbed an empty glass and hurled it at Baranes. Labrousse's 17-year-old son threw a book at Baranes' lawyer, Jean Louis Tixer-Vignancour, a rightist deputy. The lawyer flung two books which missed Labrousse's son but hit a reporter.

Trial Began March 7
After the courtroom was emptied by the presiding judge, a fist fight broke out between Tixer-Vignancour and Georges Arnault, a leftist author. There were fist fights also among spectators.

The confusion reflected the course of the long trial which began March 7 amid almost complete indifference, but turned quickly into a political forum, in which the exchanges often had little to do with the case.

Two Men Admit Kidnaping Woman In Trunk Of Car
LEMMON, S. D., May 20 (AP)—Two New England men signed confessions today that they kidnaped a 56-year-old farm woman, took her on a 25-mile ride in the trunk of their car and left her tied to a windmill in this sparsely settled section of northwestern South Dakota.

Held without charge in the city jail here were David Earnest Landry, 25, Waltham, Mass., and Wayne Everett Morgan, 31, Concord, N. H.

Perkins County Sheriff Albert Vessel said the two men signed statements admitting the abduction yesterday of Mrs. Mabel Gallan, who lives about 10 miles northwest of Bison, S. D., in the extreme northwestern corner of the state.

Mrs. Gallan was found last night gagged and bound to a pasture windmill 25 miles from her farm home.

French Treason Trial Verdicts Set Off Fights

PARIS, May 20 (AP)—In a stormy climax to a 2½-month-old trial, a French military tribunal today sentenced two former high-ranking civil servants to long prison terms for leaking defense secrets to the Communists during the Indochina war.

Books and an empty water glass flew through the air, and fist fights flared.

Roger Labrousse, former head of France's civil defense, got six years and Jean-Rene Turpin, former top-ranking member of the National Defense Ministry Secretariat General, four years. It was far beyond the demands of the prosecution, which had asked sentences not exceeding 20 months—the time Labrousse and Turpin have already spent in jail.

Ship 39 Land Miles Away
The observer ship Mt. McKinley, with 15 correspondents and a score of Civil Defense observers on board, was 34 nautical miles—39 land miles—from the target.

The shock wave reached the ship 2 minutes, 43 seconds after the explosion. It came as a prolonged, deep-toned, grumbling roar.

Ears of observers crackled as the air pressure changed when the rush of air reached them.

As the mushroom cloud rose above the dark bands of natural clouds, touches of brown appeared in it. This was evidence of oxides of nitric acid produced by the explosion.

A few seconds after the burst, a half dozen small, brilliant points of light were noted close to the forming cloud. These were not immediately explainable. There was speculation that they might have been some form of instrumentation dropped from the high-flying B52 bomber that dropped the bomb, or possibly just stars.

Vacuum In Atmosphere
One scientist aboard the Mt. McKinley said that such a powerful detonation creates a vacuum.

Algerians Kill 20 French Soldiers
ALGIERS, Algeria, May 20 (AP)—The bodies of 20 young French soldiers ambushed 25 miles outside Algiers were found yesterday and today. Some were mutilated.

News of the ambush spread new tension in this largest city in Algeria. It coincided with an outbreak of killings in the Arab quarter over the weekend.

The soldiers, from the Paris region, were sent out late Friday on a cleanup patrol between Menerville and Palestro, east of Algiers.

They never reached their destination. About 1,500 soldiers, with planes and armored cars, rushed to the rescue.

The first bodies were found late last night, two with the throats cut. Others had been shot, evidently in a bitter battle, for the area was spattered with ammunition.

It was one of the biggest ambushes of French soldiers in recent months.

10 Million Ton Shot Produces Huge Fireball

First Air-Dropped Hydrogen Device Exploded By U. S.

By ELTON C. FAY

USS MT. MCKINLEY, Off Bikini, Monday, May 21 (AP)—America's first air-dropped H-bomb, with at least 10 million tons of savage fury, burst above a Bikini Atoll target island in the black predawn today.

At precisely the scheduled instant of 5:51 a.m.—12:51 p.m. Sunday, EST—a pinpoint of light pricked the darkness just above the horizon.

Even through the almost opaque filter of high-density goggles, the swiftly growing, unearthly brilliance of the expanding fireball was dazzling.

An observer, taking a cautious, quick glimpse over the rim of his goggles, quickly put them back on.

Swelling swiftly, the fireball raced out to what seemed more than a three-mile diameter in a matter of seconds.

From its initial silvery-white brilliancy, the fireball began dimming into a creamy white, then into orange and red as it started to shrink.

Mushroom Takes Shape
Up from the dark rim of the horizon rose the point of an amazingly brilliant red arrow of lighted cloud, ascending at a speed of hundreds of miles an hour.

It pointed a finger at the mushroom beginning to take shape overhead.

By now the night was starting to turn into the gray light of dawn.

Down over the target island of Namu, at the northwest end of Bikini Atoll, a "base surge" developed—a broad, low-lying bank of dirty clouds made up of dust and moisture drawn into the air as the hot gases of the mushroom cloud mounted above it.

By 12 minutes after detonation, the top of the mushroom had reached an estimated altitude of 25 miles.

The width of the mushroom as it flattened out was nearing 100 miles.

The giant cloud by then was so high that the rays of the sun, still below the horizon, painted it in brilliant salmon and pink colors.

Actually the oldest boy did not have the guns and had not spent the money obtained in his share of the loot but instead the guns belonged to another member of the group whose mother was censured for her part in allowing her son to steal.

Navy To Begin Work On Biggest A-Sub Yet

Radar Picket Vessel Will Dwarf Nautilus

WASHINGTON, May 20 (AP)—The largest submarine ever attempted will begin to take shape next week when the Navy lays the keel of a radar picket vessel designed to be the first ship of an all-atomic powered task force.

The new leviathan will derive its driving energy from twin reactors. It will be larger and more potent even than the Nautilus, whose success has spawned a whole new family of atomic submarines and generated the decision to go ahead with the first nuclear-powered guided missiles cruiser and a huge aircraft carrier.

The Navy has already plotted the task force role for submarine No. 586, on which construction will start at Groton, Conn., Tuesday, May 29.

It must be big, to hold the two uranium-fueled furnaces needed to give it the enduring speed to keep up with the surface force.

It must also be big to house the complex radar and other detection devices that will feed information to the combat information center within its hull. For the job of the big submarine will be to scout off the far fringes of the carrier task force and give warning of danger approaching by air, on the surface or under the ocean.

On the same day the Navy starts the big task force submarine it will lay the keel, at the same yards of the Electric Boat division of General Dynamics Corp., of a smaller attack boat designed to outrun the Nautilus underwater. For the Navy envisages an all-purpose atomic submarine fleet to confirm and expand its still unchallenged leadership in all aspects of seagoing nuclear power.

The navy's vision of the offensive and defensive capabilities of atomic submarines has been both broadened and made clearer by every mile of the 36,000 that the Nautilus has logged. Once convinced that this vessel could go anywhere at any time, some Navy men considered putting her to a spectacular test, such as cruising submerged around the world or crossing the Arctic Ocean under the eternal ice cap of the North Pole.

Russian Regime 'Liberalization' Trend Emerges

NEW YORK, May 20 (AP)—The trend of Soviet internal policy these days indicates the Soviet regime is subjecting itself to a "liberalization" which could have far-reaching effects.

News of what the Soviet government is doing inside its own country comes to the West in bits and pieces. When these are fitted together to see the over-all trend, two general conclusions seem justified. They are:

1. The Soviet leadership remains committed to an enormous economic buildup and its aim of overtaking the United States and creating an ultimately all-Communist world.

2. The Kremlin chiefs, in order to get wider support from Soviet citizens for these goals, have embarked on a program of concessions to the public.

It is necessary to be hard-headed about whatever the Kremlin proclaims and to look for gimmicks. But it also is wise to look objectively at what it is doing.

Here are some concessions to the Soviet public since the beginning of this year:

1. Condemnation of terror. In addition to previous steps since Stalin's death to discredit and relax police terror, Nikita Khrushchev denounced this phase of Stalin's activity at the 20th party Congress in February.

2. Concessions to labor. The Soviet government has taken steps to give a better deal to nonfarm workers. A 40-hour week has been promised in the next several years. The work week already has been cut from 48 hours to 46.

3. Women. The Soviet government this year has taken two measures affecting women. The first provides increased maternity leave for pregnant women—112 days with full pay instead of 77 as previously. The second legalizes abortions under proper medical conditions. Since the mid 1930s abortions had been against the law.

4. Reduction of armed forces. The Soviet government proclaimed its intention to reduce its armed forces by 1,200,000 men.

The greatest fortress in the world, from a strategic standpoint, is the Rock of Gibraltar in the Mediterranean.

Two Men Helping Erect Floodlight Are Electrocuted

TANEYTOWN, Md., May 20 (AP)—A metal floodlight being erected Saturday at the Taneytown Speedway fell against a high tension wire. The two men holding it were killed.

The dead were Clyde E. Smith Jr., 27, and Joseph F. Murphy, 27, both of Hanover, Pa.

State Trooper Lawrence L. Dunn said Smith and Murphy tried to break the fall of the floodlight pole instead of letting go. It struck a transmission line of the Potomac Edison Co., which was carrying 7,200 volts.

The men took the full force of the shock. Efforts of the Taneytown Fire Department and Dr. R. S. McVaugh of Taneytown to revive them failed.

Three Brothers Die In Auto-Truck Crash

MEADVILLE, Pa., May 20 (AP)—Three brothers were killed and three other persons were injured, one critically, in the head-on crash of an auto and truck on Rt. 322 about 12 miles west of here last night.

Killed were Thomas E. and David Elder, 20-year-old twins; and their brother, Richard, 18, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Merle F. Elder of Sandy Lake, Mercer County.

They were riding in an auto operated by Thomas Snyder, 20, also of Sandy Lake.

State police said Snyder was attempting to overtake and pass another vehicle on a curve when his machine collided head-on with a truck driven by James R. Kunselman of Conneaut Lake.

ment of a vacuum in the atmosphere. This, he suggested, might have caused stars to shine through with unusual brilliancy for a moment.

Somewhere above the explosion, an F101A supersonic jet fighter cruised, its pilot making observations of the blast.

Ranging outward were some of the other planes assigned to cover the explosion.

Radiologists said that the height of the bursting bomb made it probable that a minimum of contamination had been produced by sucking up dust and moisture from the target area.

The exact height of the burst was a military secret, but the angle above the horizon suggested it must have been not lower than 10,000 feet.

This meant that even with its great size, the fireball did not touch the earth.

First unofficial study of the cloud suggested it was moving along the safe course predicted—dropping whatever radioactivity it contained along a path directly northward from the Marshall Islands, out in the empty ocean.

Adlai Supporter Can See Trend In Oregon Vote

MIAMI, Fla., May 20 (AP)—Adlai Stevenson's Florida campaign director claimed today that results of the Oregon primary pointed up a trend which would lead to victory for Stevenson in his head-on clash with Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) in Florida's May 29 Democratic primary.

"The success in Oregon confirms a very definite trend to Stevenson which should be made conclusive in Florida," Benmont Trench said in a statement.

Stevenson's campaign party reached Miami by plane last night after a swing through five west coast counties that wound up with a St. Petersburg rally.

U.S. Must Not Relax Guard, Kefauver Says

FT. CAMPBELL, Ky., May 20 (AP)—Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn.) said today "it would be criminally hardy" for the United States to relax its guard because of the new Soviet "softness."

In an address prepared for delivery at an Armed Forces Day ceremony here, Kefauver added:

"No one regrets more than I do that 70 cents of every tax dollar must be spent on defense. And I maintain that it is not idle to dream of the day when these vast sums can be devoted to improved educational facilities, social welfare and other endeavors related to securing happiness for all our citizens."

But, the senator said, "Until the free world and the Soviet-dominated world can find a firm basis for lasting peace, based upon mutual trust, we have no choice but to provide for the protection of ourselves and of our friends and allies."

The golf course in Cloudcroft, N. M., is said to be the highest in the world. One point is more than 10,000 feet high.

Gov. McKeldin named four members of the State Port Authority Saturday.

He was unable to name the fifth because he had not received a list of nominees from Anne Arundel County, which will have a representative on the unsalaried commission.

HAIR EXPERT HERE TUESDAY

P. J. Douglas, Tricologist, Harlow Hair Expert, here to advise men and women how to correct hair troubles by home treatment.

Basic Principle Of Hair Loss And Growth Revealed By Expert

MIAMI, Fla.—New home treatment methods for growing thicker hair—and preventing baldness—will be demonstrated in Cumberland this Tuesday only, May 22. Tricologist P. J. Douglas, or the nationally known Harlow Hair Experts will personally examine hair-worried men and women from 2 p. m. to 9 p. m. at the Hotel Fort Cumberland.

G. R. Stripling, client M-350, before Harlow treatment (above) and after treatment (below). Unretouched photographs made less than 10 months later.

25 Years Experience
The Harlow formulae for the treatment of unhealthy scalp conditions were developed by 25 years of careful research and study. The processes, proven so beneficial to thousands of men and women handicapped by gradual hair loss has been, until recently, available only in the Harlow office.

In announcing that this treatment is now available for home use, Harlow summarized his success with these thousands of hair-worried men and women in one, simple, matter-of-fact statement: "The healthy scalp grows healthy hair—naturally!"

"This is so obvious that you must rule out practically all the common opinions made by pseudo-hair experts about baldness."

"For instance, most people are convinced that baldness is hereditary, 'runs in the family' so to speak. Yet, I've never heard anyone argue that you can inherit an unhealthy scalp. So, you can't very well inherit baldness, can you?"

Baldness Due To Age?

"Another common idea," says Harlow, "is that an man just naturally loses his hair as he gets older. Now why should he? Men's hair naturally grows faster between the ages of 35 and 60."

Harlow has an impressive record to confirm these conclusions. More than 98% of the Harlow treats are satisfied, and almost every city in the U. S., Latin America, Mexico and Cuba numbers several satisfied Harlow clients.

Something Can Be Done

"You've also heard men say that nothing can be done to stop hair loss once it starts. Why not? It's just a matter of correcting an unhealthy scalp condition and trading bad habits for good habits."

"Not one male scalp in a hundred is actually healthy," Harlow observes.

"If your scalp ached when it was in bad condition—as teeth do—there wouldn't be 12,000,000 balding men in the U. S."

Free Examination

"Our first problem when you come in for a free examination is to determine the exact condition of your scalp," Harlow explained. "On the basis of this thorough analysis I prepare a home treatment to correct your own particular scalp disorder, from which only you will obtain the maximum benefits."

"There is no 'cure-all' for every scalp disorder. My treatment and care is adapted to each individual case."

Your progress is supervised at regular intervals by a Harlow tricologist and you mail matter regular reports to the Harlow Office to keep us accurately informed of your progress.

Guaranteed Satisfaction

"To overcome the average man's skepticism, we offer a full 30-DAY GUARANTEE," says Harlow. "You must be satisfied with the visible benefits by the end of 30 days or all money will be refunded."

Tricologist P. J. Douglas will be in Cumberland on Tuesday only, May 22, so make plans to see him then at the hotel.

Call the Hotel Fort Cumberland for Tricologist Douglas' room number, then visit him between 2 p. m. and 9 p. m. for a free examination.

Remember, there's no obligation for this personal examination. You need no appointment, but can make one if you prefer.

A good pedicure brings foot comfort — as well as the good looks demanded by barefoot shoes.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Neat Footwork

Even if your usual footwear is down-to-earth in more ways than one, your busy feet deserve a weekly pedicure. New shoes that may inspire extra attention right now, but the real reason for correct and faithful pedicuring is that it assures so much comfort. Here's how to go about it:

During a bath or a warm soap-and-water foot soak, smooth rough spots on the backs of the heels or on the toes with a wet pumice stone. Dry the feet and push the cuticle back on your toes just as you do on your fingers. Use a cotton-tipped orange stick dipped in cuticle or olive oil, gently, to avoid bruising or nicking which can be painful. Allow the oil to remain on the nails.

Because toenails can become ingrown so easily, never taper them as you do your fingernails, or use a file. Cut them straight across with manicure scissors or toenail clippers, even with the ends of your toes, then smooth the cut edges with an emery board. Follow with a plunge into fresh soapy water and brush-scrub to remove the loose cuticle.

Except for nail shaping, pedicuring is very like manicuring and finishes best the same way, with a base coat, two coats of polish plus a top coat put on with every bit as much care as you put polish on your fingernails.

When the polish has dried, massage the feet and legs with hand, body or baby lotion. Start with the toes, add a drop or two of tube lanolin on heel callouses and work upward. A talc or foot powder dusting readies the foot for stockings, and a good foot powder is an excellent idea at any time in hot weather because it takes care of problems created by nylon stockings. Nylon is non-absorbent, and there's often great need of thirsty foot powder to keep the feet dry and cool.

Guest wrote of Columbus:

"The things that haven't been done before. Those are the things to try; Columbus dreamed of an unknown shore. On the rim of a far-flung sky; And his heart was bold, and his faith was strong. As he ventured in dangers new, And he paid no heed to the jeering throng. Or the fears of the doubting crew.

A few strike out, without map or chart, Where never a man has been; From the beaten paths they draw apart. To see what no man has seen. There are deeds they hunger alone to do; Though battered and bruised and sore, They blaze the paths for the many who Do nothing not done before."

Guest's words, so pertinent to Columbus, might be applied to William Booth in the area of religion and social endeavor. For Booth blazed a path for the many who do nothing not done before. A tribute to his originality is found in the statement of one politician who called him a "Jules Verne in the field of social uplift."

Indeed, William Booth was called many things—complimentary and otherwise. He was an "ecclesiastical irregular," a "benevolent autocrat," an "evangelical Trojan," the prophet of the poor. Huxley ridiculed him as "The Old War Eagle, with a beak like the Duke of Wellington, and wearing a Gai-baldi shirt."

* But of all the appellatives used to describe William Booth, we like the term used by one of his own people—"The Man of the Jericho Road."

Why of the Jericho Road? It was on the Jericho Road that Zacchaeus climbed the sycamore tree to see Jesus as He passed by; it is a road of deep spiritual need. It was on the Jericho Road that the sons of the prophets were working on their building, and the head of a borrowed axe fell into the water; it is the road of lost values. It was on the Jericho Road that two blind men called to Jesus as He was passing, and had their sight restored; it is the road of men gone blind, groping in hope. It was on the Jericho Road that a certain man was going down from Jerusalem to Jericho, fell among thieves, and was left bruised, wounded, dying; it is the road of human suffering and pain.

And it was to service along this road of need, of blind men, of lost men, of perishing humanity that William Booth dedicated the flaming enthusiasms of his spirit and the ruggedness of his untiring physique.

William Booth was born on the Jericho Road. It was on April 10, 1829—one year after Andrew Jackson was elected president; 20 years after Lincoln was born in a log cabin in Hodgenville, in the days of Henry Clay, J. Quincy Adams, and Martin Van Buren. It was about that time that the literary genius of Charles Dickens was budding in the Old Land.

English skies were aflame with industrial unrest. Ten thousand families were living through the throes of gigantic economic disaster. Hunger was imprinted on the faces of men. On the surrounding hills, overlooking the industrial background of the great city of Nottingham, England, lived the captains of industry, many of whom were indifferent to the sweltering misery of those from whom their princely incomes were pressed. Yes, William Booth was born on the Jericho Road.

Can you conjure out of the past a picture of England's large cities of that day? No adequate system of national education. No provision for the relief of poverty except the hideous institution called the poorhouse. Any general scheme for the alleviation of the condition of the poor was a kind of blasphemy to the complacent and materialistic folks who were in the majority in England.

Drunkenness was frightfully common. The streets where the poor lived echoed with the obscene noises of uproarious men staggering home from ale-houses. Slatternly women, equally drunken, kept them company. Swarming everywhere were ragged, barefooted, verminous children, William Booth was born on the Jericho Road.

No wonder then that his sympathies went out to the unfortunate. He had a talking acquaintance with poverty. He had experienced unsatisfied hunger. His heart was touched by the infirmities of people. So he made it the big business of his life to bring the message of salvation through Jesus Christ to the bruised of the Jericho Road.

Toward the end of his life, when he became weakened in body and nearly blind, many of his friends urged him to ease up a bit. But he could not, yes, he would not—he was a child of destiny, and the insistent calls of the Jericho Road compelled him to serve there until his last prayer was said. Rest? He would not. Retire? He would not. "While women weep as they do now," he said, "I'll fight. While children go hungry and shoeless as they do now, I'll fight. While men go to prison, in and out, in and out, as they do now, I'll fight!"

And so, on August 20, 1912, this grand old man fell fighting on the shores of the Jericho Road. He died a sovereign among men—yes, a king, so long as service shall be counted the badge of royalty.

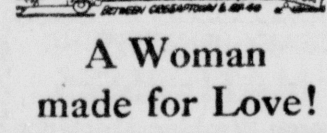

And in this, the 76th anniversary of the landing of his pioneer party on the shores of the USA, his tens of thousands of followers purpose to follow his example.

In nursery and in jail, in drawing room and on squalid street corner, in hospital and summer camp, among soldier boys and in Sunday schools, the blue-bonneted ladies will continue to carry on a ministry among the needy of the Jericho Road, until—

"Ten thousand times ten thousand. In glistering raiment white. The armies of the ransomed throng. Mount up the steps of light. And finished, all is finished. The fight with death and sin—The Golden Gates fling open wide. And let the victors in!"

The first metropolitan woman newspaper editor was Cornelia Walter of the Boston Transcript in 1842.

Walt Hansgen Wins Feature Cumberland Sports Car Race

Californian Comes Close In Top Event

McAfee Is First In Earlier Drive Before Big Crowd

By ALBERT D. DARBY, Jr.

Walt Hansgen of Fairview, N. J., driving a D Jaguar, pulled an upset in the feature of the Cumberland National Championship Sports Car race before a huge crowd at the Cumberland Municipal Airport yesterday when he defeated a field which included most of the big names in sports car racing field.

William R. Carscaden, general chairman of the Cumberland Lions Club committee, which has been sponsoring sports car races here each May for the past four years, announced that the attendance for yesterday's eight-race program exceeded 61,000. Others said a more conservative estimate probably would be around 50,000.

Averages 68 MPH

Although Hansgen won the feature, Edgar D. Vandegrift Memorial race when he averaged 68 miles per hour as he drove his speedster around the 1.6 course 44 times in the hour-long grind, Jack McAfee, the big fellow from Sherman Oaks, Calif., drew plenty of applause when he finished second. Last year's feature race average speed was 67.9 mile per hour.

McAfee, the first Californian to race here in this Sports Car Club of America sponsored event, earlier yesterday won the Tri-State Trophy by winning the fifth race, a 45-minute drive, with an average speed of 67.2 miles per hour with a Porsche 550 owned by John Edgar of California.

Originally McAfee had been scheduled to drive a Ferrari in the feature race but the car broke down in a test run Saturday. So he drove the same Porsche 550 in the finale and kept moving up from ninth position until he gained second place by overtaking Bill Lloyd of Green Farms, Conn., driving a Maserati, with about 10 minutes to go. Lloyd finished third, the position he held in the feature race a year ago.

1955 Winner Is 7th

Sherwood Johnston, Rye, N. Y., winner of the 1955 feature race, could get no better than seventh place this year as he drove one of the four D Jaguars owned by Briggs S. Cunningham, Green Farms, Conn., which competed in the feature.

John Fitch, also of Green Farms, was the best of the Cunningham quartet, finished fourth, a notch ahead of John Bennett of New York City, another Cunningham driver. E. P. Lunken of Cincinnati, Ohio, driving his Ferrari, was sixth, just ahead of Johnston and Cunningham, who placed seventh and eighth respectively.

One of the most interesting race from a spectator standpoint was the seventh in which Paul O'Shea of Rye, N. Y., repeated his victory of last year. O'Shea dogged Charles C. Wallace of Bethesda, 26th 1955 winner, through the first 26 laps as they drove their Mercedes 300 SL's in first and second positions. When Wallace lost his brakes on the 27th lap and went into a spin, O'Shea took the lead and stayed out in front. O'Shea again was to be content with third place behind R. Dunagan of Bradenton, Fla.

Doctor And Wife Score

Dr. M. R. J. Willie of Allison Park, Pa., and his wife, Margaret, who were injured a year ago when one of the racers ran out of control approaching the finish line, had no bad luck this year. He won the second race with his Lotus MK IXA and she won the ladies' event, driving a Jaguar XK140MC.

E. M. Pupulidy of Freeport, N. Y., driving a Porsche, won the first race, a 40-minute event yesterday morning. L. C. Underwood, South Orange, N. J., at the wheel of a Porsche G/S, was victorious in the third race. The sixth event was won by Col. Fred Moore of Arlington, Va., who went out in front and stayed there in his Austin-Healey 100M.

Zihlman had won four games in a row prior to yesterday's game when Bill Haberlein halted the league leaders. The Wellersburg outpunch yielded nine hits, fanned eleven and notched his second win against a single loss.

A four-run 7th inning put Zihlman ahead 6-5 but the Pennsylvanians knocked Ronnie Rice out of the box in the 8th and went on to win and move into a tie for third place.

Barrelville tied Zihlman for the league leadership by walloping Flintstone's Farmers at Barrelville to the tune of 19-4. The loss was the fifth in a row for Manager Charley Doyle's club.

Manager "Buck" Fiorita's aggression rapped five pitchers for 19 hits with Jack Brant sparking the assault with a 4-for-4 performance at the plate. Charley Glass hit safely thrice and Edgar Parsons doubled a triple. Kenny Lough's double and two singles were among the 10 hits yielded by Jim McGregor, who fired the third strike past 10 Flintstone batsmen.

Marshall Fletcher was charged with the loss, his fourth of the campaign. Hyndman Is Winner Hyndman remained one game game off the pace by whipping Centerville (Pa.) at Hyndman by the score of 6-3.

Twenty-two hits were recorded in this game. Hyndman touched three hurlers for 10 safeties with Gene Stair, Richard Emerick and Cliff Clites obtaining two hits each.

Verlye Nave paced Centerville with three hits and Homer Rose smacked a pair of two-baggers. Stair turned in several nice running catches in left field for Hyndman and obtained his team's only extra base hit, a double. Jim Leydig went the route and posted his second win against one loss. Roy Reed was the loser.

Bobby Dawson made his debut with Mt. Savage in the role of relief pitcher and yielded only three hits and one unearned run, walked one and struck out five in 7½ innings. Carl Emerick was tagged with the loss.

Brooks Move Up By Copping Two

Dodgers Turn Back Cubs In 5-3 Games

BROOKLYN, May 20 (AP)—Sandy Amoros blasted a mighty triple in the eighth inning to break up a tie and enable the Brooklyn Dodgers to sweep a doubleheader from the Chicago Cubs today and pull almost even for the National League lead. Amoros' clout sent Gil Hodges and Jackie Robinson across the plate for a 5-3 victory after Duke Snider had broken up the opener with a two-run homer to enable the Brooks to grab the decision by a similar score.

The Brooks are all even with the first-place Milwaukee Braves in the won-lost column, but trail the leaders by 26 percentage points.

Brooklyn relief pitchers were credited with both triumphs. Don Newcombe who took over for young Ken Lehman in the fourth inning of the nightcap and held the Bruins in check the rest of the way, recorded his sixth triumph against two defeats.

Clem Labine gained the victory in the opener after taking over for another youngster, Don Drysdale, in the seventh. Jim Brosnan, making his first major league start, pitched creditably for the Cubs until he grooved one for Snider.

Reese had walked before Snider hit his fifth home run in the seventh.

Friend, Kline Twirl Pirates To 6-3, 5-0 Wins Over Braves

Long Bats In Seven Runs; 32,346 Witness Tilts; Spahn Beaten

PITTSBURGH, May 20 (AP)—Sparked by two home runs by Dale Long, the Pittsburgh Pirates swept a doubleheader from the Milwaukee Braves today, downing them 6-3 in the opener and shutting them out 5-0 in the nightcap.

Long thrilled the crowd of 32,346, largest attendance at Forbes Field since May 20, 1951, as he batted in seven runs in both games.

Poles 3-Run Homer He lofted a three-run homer, his eighth of the season, into the upper deck of the right-field stands in the fifth inning of the first game.

He shoved two more runs across in the first inning of the second game with his ninth round-tripper of the year, and batted in two more with a single in the seventh.

Ronnie Kline turned in a sparkling six-hit performance for the Pirates in the second game to chalk up his third victory of the season compared to two defeats. All the hits off Kline were singles. He walked only one and fanned one.

Spahn Is Loser The Pirates got all of their runs off southpaw Warren Spahn, who was charged with the loss, his second compared to three victories. He yielded nine hits in 6 2-3 innings.

In the first game, the Pirates made the most of a shaky Milwaukee defense in the fifth to score all six of their runs in that frame.

Ray Crone was charged with the loss, his first of the year.

Friend Fans Eight Bob Friend received credit for the victory. He scattered nine hits, fanned eight and gave up only one walk.

The Pirates loaded the bases in the fifth on a walk, an error by Danny O'Connell and an attempted force out that failed to click at third.

Bob Skinner then socked a two-run single. Friend then scored from third when Del Rice was unable to put the tag on him on Bill Virdon's grounder to Crone on the mound.

The Braves' John Logan swatted his second homer of the year in the sixth inning with nobody on.

PHILADELPHIA, May 20 (AP)—The Cincinnati Redlegs and the Philadelphia Phillies divided a home-happy doubleheader at Connie Mack Stadium today, Cincinnati taking the first 5-1 on home runs by Ted Kluszewski and Wally Post, and the Phils winning the second 6-4 on eighth-inning blasts by Del Ennis and Willie Jones.

It was generally agreed that Florida-bred Needles, from the D.K.H. Stable of Bonnie Heath and Jack Dudley, needed to space his races farther apart as Trainer Hugh Fontaine did earlier in the season.

The Calumet Farm's Fabius, who was winning a fifth Preakness for that famed racing empire, was off to Garden State Park where Trainer Jimmy Jones says he's supposed to tackle the $50,000-added Jersey Stakes at a mile and one eighth next Saturday.

Needles, however, will await the $100,000-added Belmont and it's rugged mile and one-half route four weeks hence. That could be the prescription to put Needles back in the winner's circle, and give him a big edge toward the 3-year-old championship.

Mishap Victim Critical At Local Hospital

Two Are Killed In Romney Crash

A 21-year-old Slanesville, W. Va., youth remains in critical condition at Memorial Hospital with injuries sustained in a weekend crash in Romney which claimed the lives of two other youths.

Attaches said last night that Wilbert Frank Voit, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Voit, has not regained consciousness following the accident.

Funeral services for the two men, who met death after the car in which they were riding crashed into a tree on Main Street, Romney, at 11:30 p. m., (EST) Friday will be conducted today.

Services for Larry Donald Saville, 19, of Augusta, will be held at Salem Methodist Church, Slanesville, at 11 a. m. (EST) today, with the Rev. Lehman Channell, of Levels officiating.

He is survived by his wife Ruby (Beery) Saville; one son, James Saville, his parents, Roy and Dolly (Snyder) Saville, Augusta; two sisters, Mrs. Phyllis Gardner, Washington, D. C., and Mrs. Janet Allen, Burlington, N. C.; one brother, Bruce, at home, and his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Laura Snyder, Slanesville.

The body is at the McKee Funeral Home, Augusta, where it will remain until 10 a. m. (EST) today and will then be taken to the church for the service.

Interment will be in Salem Cemetery.

Services for the other victim of the crash, Harold Curtis Brown, age 19, of Newark, Delaware, formerly of Romney and a 1955 graduate of Romney High School, will be held at 2 p. m. (EST) today in the Romney Methodist Church, with the Rev. Ralph T. McCord officiating, followed by interment in the Fort Ashby Cemetery.

He is survived by his wife, Sue Ellen (Beery) Brown; one daughter, Teresa Sue; his parents, Cecil W. and Virginia (Malone) Brown, Fort Ashby; five brothers, Jack Brown, of California, Charles Brown, stationed at Hutchison, Kansas, with the U. S. Navy; Leonard, Larry and Dale Brown, all of Fort Ashby; one sister, Donna Brown, Fort Ashby and his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Malone, of Romney, with whom he has lived since childhood.

The body is at the Combs Funeral Home, Romney, where it will remain until service time.

According to Trooper James L. Martin, of West Virginia State Police, who, with Romney Chief of Police Luther Hutter, is investigating the crash, two witnesses, Reynolds Hill and Richard Powell, saw the westbound car go out of control near the Coca Cola plant, several hundred yards from the scene of the crash, fail to make a turn near the West Virginia School For The Deaf, and proceed on until it struck the tree.

The car had been left at a service station at the eastern end of Romney and Hill had taken Brown and Saville to the station to get the car. Hill was following the death car back into town when the crash occurred.

Five Lawsuits Are Scheduled For Trial Here

SRC Condemnation Case Opens Today

Five lawsuits, including three damage suits totaling $80,000, are scheduled to be heard by a petit jury in Allegany County Circuit Court within the next two weeks.

This morning a condemnation suit in which the Maryland State Roads Commission is seeking property of Calvary Baptist Church in Cresaptown is scheduled for a hearing. The property sought is required for improvement to a culvert on U. S. Route 220 about three miles south of Cumberland.

The largest of the three damage suits, in which the plaintiff is seeking $50,000, is scheduled for trial on Thursday.

James M. Murray of 209 Centre Street, Frostburg, through his counsel, Simon F. Reilly, is suing Caney Williams Jr., 137 Wood Street, Frostburg, who will be represented by W. Earle Cobey.

Murray contends that on February 18, 1955, he suffered injuries while riding in a car operated by the defendant who was traveling west on Braddock Road and struck an embankment.

On Monday, May 28, a damage suit in which the plaintiff is seeking $10,000 for injuries sustained in an auto accident September 24, 1955 on U. S. Route 220 near the western outskirts of Cumberland, is scheduled to be tried before a jury.

Edward J. Weaver, of 545 North Mechanic, through his attorneys, Peter J. Carpentieri and Simon Reilly, is suing Robert L. Cowden, of 126 Paca Street, who is also represented by W. Earle Cobey. Weaver was a passenger in the station wagon driven by the defendant at the time of the accident.

On Tuesday, May 29, a damage suit for $20,000 is expected to be heard in the local court. James Hanlin of this county is suing Elmer B. Schoenherr of Lewiston, N. Y., for injuries he sustained on August 13, 1955 in the vicinity of Ocean, along State Route 36.

According to the declaration the defendant was traveling from Midland, and at Ocean drove to the left of the center of the highway and struck the plaintiff's car. Hanlin is being represented by Edward J. Ryan while William C. Walsh and William Walsh are counsel for the defendant.

In the other case which is expected to be heard on Thursday, May 31, Harrison J. Fletcher of RD 1, Oldtown, is appealing a decision of the Maryland State Industrial Accident Commission, of December 21, 1955.

An employee of the Consolidated Orchard Company of Paw Paw, W. Va., Fletcher was reported to have been injured while at work on August 6, 1954.

At that time, Del. Robinson (D-Baltimore 4th) said McCain knows more about the 12-year roads program than any man in the state and sharply criticized any rumors that he would be replaced.

Today's Sermonette

Today's sermonette is a digest of the sermon preached yesterday at the Salvation Army Citadel by the commanding officer, Capt. Daniel K. Biggs. The sermon digests are being prepared through the cooperation of the Cumberland Ministerial Association.

The Man Of The Jericho Road

By CAPT. DANIEL K. BIGGS

It has been said that any mighty movement is but the lengthened shadow of one man: one Luther, many Protestants; one Wesley, many Methodists; one Booth, many Salvationists.

For good or ill, it is the individual who makes or mars society. The greatest power in the world is one-man power. Man controls all horsepower. He manipulates all voltages. When that one-man power is swayed by the Spirit of God, controlled by divinity, motivated by love, it is the world's most irresistible force.

One man like Knox will defy a queen. One man like Garibaldi will free a people. One man like Washington will build a republic. But one man like Hitler will devastate a continent.

A Frances Willard will leave as her heritage to mankind a WCTU. And William Booth a Salvation Army. Every great evangelical and reforming agency can boast a noble founder who ventured to do what others feared to do. They were blessed with creative minds, vaulting originality, dauntless courage. Refusing to be enslaved by the traditions of the elders, they would not yield to the tyranny of the past and become embalmed by custom.

Section 4 Channel Job Will Begin

The Hazelwood Construction Company expects to begin field work on Section 4 of the Wills Creek Channel phase of the flood control program today.

The local firm was notified recently by the Corps of Engineers to proceed with construction on the $2,854,254 contract, which includes channel shaping and paving and the construction of a new traffic and railroad bridge at Baltimore Street.

The firm is expected to set up field offices and begin moving equipment to the construction area early this week.

Upstream, the E. J. Albrecht Company, Chicago, which last fall began construction on Sections 2 and 3, is building a coffer dam in the creek to divert water from the construction area.

When the channel behind the coffer dam is dry, the firm will begin drilling and removing rock from the bed of the creek.

The same company is also engaged in work on flood levees in West Cumberland and West Ridgeley, but has been hampered because the earth has been wet for compacting.

By mid-summer, work is expected to start on another contract. The Corps of Engineers will open bids on the construction of the Mill Race and East Ridgeley pumping stations on June 5.

The units will be needed to pump surface water over the face of the flood wall and levees when water in the river or creek is too high to allow storm sewers to empty by gravity.

Criminal Cases Decline, Motor Violations Up

Overall Increase Since 1951 Noted

Criminal cases showed a slight decline in the past year, although rising sharply since 1951, while motor vehicle violations continued on the upswing, a report prepared by Trial Magistrates Court reveals.

Magistrate Donald W. Mason said the report, prepared from the court's records, indicates that motor violation cases are getting worse each year with an 11 per cent increase noted in 1955 over the previous year.

Overall, the report stated, motor violations have increased 60 per cent since 1951 when 1,021 cases were tried. Magistrates Mason and J. Milton Dick heard 1,607 motor cases last year.

In 1952 the motor docket listed 1,194 cases; in 1953, there were 1,357 cases; in 1954 there were 1,446 violations showing the steady rise in the number of traffic cases being handled by the court.

Fines, Costs Increase

Parallel with the rise in motor cases the records show a marked increase in the fines and costs levied for the violations. A 12 per cent hike is noted over 1954 when $18,724.50 was collected. In 1955 the total was $21,707.70.

These figures on fines compare with $10,516 in 1951; with $16,520.13 in 1952; and with $18,585.25 in 1953. In the past five years the increase in the amounts of fines taken in by the court is approximately 110 per cent.

Magistrate Mason also called attention to the fact that the 1,607 motor cases heard in Trial Magistrates Court last year only 13 appeals were taken to higher court.

On the criminal ledgers the two magistrates tried 326 cases, a 3 per cent decrease from the 411 criminal trials in 1954. However since 1951 the increase in the number of criminal cases hiked 68 per cent. In 1951 there were 194 cases tried, 289 in 1952, and 407 in 1953.

Big Hike Since 1951

Fines and costs in these cases likewise showed a decline in the past year but an overall increase since 1951. Fines collected in 1955 totaled $1,932.85 compared to $2,233 in 1954. These fines include game and fish violations.

The decrease in the past year in fines and costs for criminal cases amounted to about 7 per cent but the overall rise since 1951 is over 123 per cent.

Fines amounted to $864.85 in 1951, to $1,115.25 in 1952; and $1,855.25 in 1953.

There was a decrease in the number of civil cases brought before the Magistrate's Court. Last year there were 636 civil suits filed in the court, compared to 724 in 1954. This also compared with 380 in 1951, with 613 in 1952 and with 932 in 1953. It is an overall 101 per cent increase since 1951 but actually the records show a decided decrease in each of the past two years.
